

Library: You Said, We Did.

You said you would like access to more electronic journals and resources

We increased our subscriptions to new databases, giving you access to more full text journal articles

You said you would like more help with online library resources

We created online videos on ebooks, accessing EBSCO, and off-campus access to resources

You said you would like more training on how to research

We now offer all students training on databases, ejournals, ebooks, and the library catalogue
